

Case Study

Carr Hill Community Primary School, Gateshead

Carr Hill Community Primary School, Gateshead, has given its playground a complete make over and has included many Marmax products in the new design. The playground now incorporates several undercover areas, so extending the amount of time that the playground can be used. Marmax picnic benches in adult and junior sizes, fitted with gameboard tops, provide opportunities for all age groups to play board games. Sturdy benches have been placed in groups to encourage socialising and brightly coloured benches furnish the friendship corner. Blue Marmax picnic benches have been used to coordinate with the school colours and the rainbow sturdy benches add a cheerful splash of colour.

All these benches are maintenance free and the recycled plastic will keep its appearance without fading or rotting for many years to come, without any need for painting or staining
